THE LOBSTER

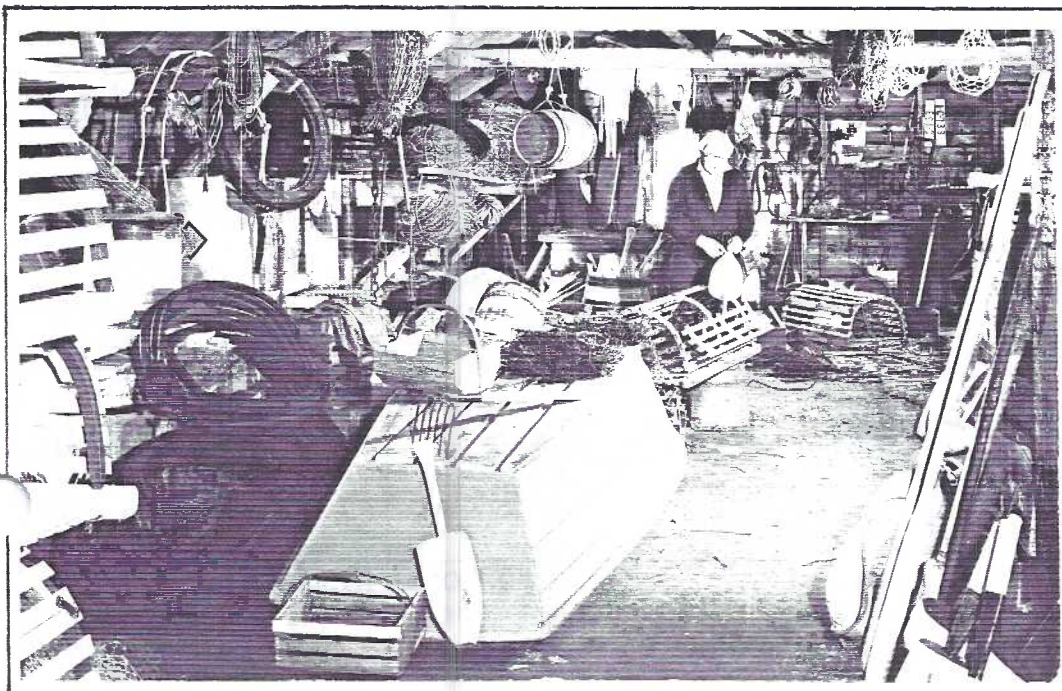

We'll eat the best, the better to live,
From forest, sea and dell;
But the rarest joy Nature can give
Is found in a lobster shell.

LOBSTER DAY IN MAINE

July 31 is the Annual Maine Lobster Fest at Rockland and we offer these PCs as an essay in its honor. Curt Teich's offering, top right, #125 in a RP series by Lorimer E. Brackett of Monhegan, ME., center, and below, W.H. Ballard's RP showing a lobster fisherman's workshop at Bass Harbor, ME

NEW MSU POSTCARDS

Millersville's "Alumnus Emeritus", Harry Lines, has provided THE CARD with four views published by the Millersville University Alumni Association over the last 4 years. The series of four cards are dated and for the historian we here list the respective captions. Check with Harry if you wish to secure the series.

Card #1 1994 OLD MAIN. The tower of Old Main...

Card #2 1995 BIEMSDERFER EXECUTIVE CENTER.

Formerly the Old Library...(shown)

Card #3 1996 DUTCHER HALL. Formerly the Old Gym..

Card #4 1997 THE LAKE. ..founded in 1894.

All PCs are vertical format, full color, 4"x6".

Thanks, Harry, for your contribution to THE CARD.

MEMBERS IN THE NEWS

SUNDAY NEWS readers were recently treated to a wonderful column by Lorraine Singer. Her "I Know A Story" was a tribute to her father and the grand times they spent together as she grew up. Lorraine has enjoyed writing for many years.

On local TV an evening segment of outdoor happenings showed us the many ways Ray and Shirley Bubb attract dozens of birds to their backyard feeders. You can possibly see the segment beyond PA. as it was made available for syndication. The local birders are genuine experts in their field and were major contributors to A Guide to the Birds of Lancaster County, PA., a bargain at local bookstores for under $10.

Congratulations to these members for excellence in sharing their hobbies.

CORRECTION / ADDITIONS

In last month's CARD, the Constantine Kermes "set of four" Landis Valley b/w wood-cuts on postcards was spied by Bill Buckwalter whose interests in local PCs goes far beyond his hometown of Lititz. Bill produced an original envelope (shown) along with two PCs missing from our May listing. Your editor is again reminded of Charlie Griffith's constant reminder "you can never be sure you've seen them all - even when it's an even number of cards". Right, again, Charlie and thanks to Bill for his contribution and an apology from your editor. Isn't such contribution of info what this hobby's all about?

KUNZLER & CO.

A recent news article featuring the $16 million expansion program of the city's oldest meat processor brought to mind the real photo postcard shown. The stamp box dates it between 1915 and 1927. By 1919 the founder, Christ Kunzler, Sr., had taken in partners Samuel Shubrooks and Paul Schmidt so we can't be sure it's not one of the three driving the meat wagon. Or perhaps, it's an employee. Both the wagon and the leather harness cover read Ch. Kunzler & Co. Additionally, the wagon sign reads Pure Meats and Meat Products. It appears dalmations were not just 'fire house dogs'.

Kunzlers began their business on Manor Street in 1901 so they were too late for the Trade Card era (approximately 1870 to 1900. They might have had great advertisement postcards. Unfortunately for us collectors, as was the case with many businesses, they chose not to use that inexpensive advertising medium (at least your editor is unaware of any other Kunzler cards). Do YOU know of any?

3 HUGE KISSES FROM HERSHEY

During the past few years you've no doubt been aware of Hershey Foods' expanded advertising program. With a new product almost yearly, it's quite understandable. One of Hershey's most innovative ad campaigns is linked to its favorite charity.

The postcard shows their giant KISSMOBILE (not unlike the weinermobile of another company). The back of the PC explains "during its travels across America, the KISSMOBILE raises money" and awareness for Hershey's long-standing charity partner, Children's Miracle Network...All proceeds from the sale of this postcard benefit CMN".

The Hershey Food Corporation copyright and CMN logo appear on the reverse but there's no indication of the printer.

"Ruth Moyer says the PCs sell for 50¢ and she got hers in Hershey the last week of May just before the Kissmobile left for a candy show in Chicago. If you live near the Hershey chocolate factory you may wish to check on the availability of the PCs. Please let us know.

Thanks, Ruth, for this contribution to THE CARD.

HOMES of MOVIE STARS

Decadence and Hollywood have been bedfellows for generations. Recently former screen star Marlon Brando scorched Tinseltown with a verbal brand of his own and few weeks ago the Southern Baptists placed a decadent label on Disney. (Minnie and Mickey would blush if they sat in the audience of today's Disney feature films.)

Though sex and violence were always there, the films of the 1930's and 1940's dished out the vices in smaller doses. Stars from those "Golden" days can be found on postcards labeled "Home of...", "Residence of...".

LCPC staffer Gerald Hostetter started his collection about a year ago looking for cards with the homes and the star's picture. He has since expanded to PCs of the homes only as they are more numerous. Of the 134 examples he has, only 44 include the miniature portraits which, no doubt, account for the latter being at the upper end of the $1-$4 range. This is still an inexpensive way to collect and reminisce with stars of the Golden Age of Hollywood.

We have made no attempt to separate the numerous series by publishers, but, instead offer a numerical listing of Gerry's cards to give you an idea of what you might find. Many of the missing numbers in the series (and there must be hundreds) can be attributed to Hollywood related subjects like "The Floor of Fame", illustrated. The cards include mostly linens, some white borders and fewer than ten chromes.

Where a star appears more than once you can be certain it is a different view or different portrait

PICNIC REPORT

Ninety degree temps probably kept some members away from the Sunday picnic/meeting, but those who knew I lived in the woods were right when they suspected it would be 10 degrees cooler, and it was. Bird watchers found places for their chairs and the rest began looking at cards brought by Jose Rodriguez, Howard Steinberg, Mike Middleton and Jim Ward. Others enjoyed albums to look at including our latest NPW exchanges.

A grand buffet was set up by Mary Ann Sherer and Ruth Moyer with donations from everyone attending. Following the meal, President Ruth Frankhouser conducted a brief meeting and exhibits were discussed.

"A Recent Acquisition" was the program subject and the following participated:

BUD PROWELL - The new Hershey Kissmobile card
 PAULINE CURTIS - A modern round PC from Poland
 MARY ANN GUNTOW - An Internet postcard
 RUTH MOYER - The Hopeland Cigar Factory (real photo)
 HAROLD MOYER - A scarce Stevens Post Office card
 MARY DARRENKAMP - 1907 Harrisburg hidden view
 BRIAN FRANKHOUSER - recently made PC reproduced expertly from an old photograph by a NJ entrepreneur
 RUTH FRANKHOUSER - Her aunt at 4 1/2 years
 ELIZABETH GRAVER - A Deltiologist's Psalm
 HOWARD STEINBERG - Reading, PA. electric beer truck
 DEDE SCHAEFFER - CTC Trolley #127 (not recently acquired, but recently unearthed to use in our Local View Book- she only owns 3 views!)
 JIM WARD - Arrow Shoe Store 1937 advertising postal

Other members attending were Betty Brown with husband "Butch", Peg Hanna, Carol and Ray Dennis, Ray and Shirley Bubb, Ove Braskerud, Mary Kirk, Betty Jane Weaver, Mary Ann Sherer, Anne Steinberg, Bill Guntow, Michael Middleton, Daisy Schaeffer, John Long, Harold and Dot Fry, Aida and Jose Rodriguez and Jim Morrison

It was a most enjoyable program. Do consider participating when we have a similar theme in the future.

The meeting ended with a plethora of plants and baseball caps as door prizes - enough so all 33 attendees received at least one, thanks to the donations of Ruth Frankhouser, Mary Ann Sherer and Jim Ward.

The final members pulled out at 7 pm and the spiders took back their homes before midnight. Thank you for your nice comments and compliments, but be certain to share them with Ruth M. and Mary Ann S., who did the lion's share of the work. JFW.

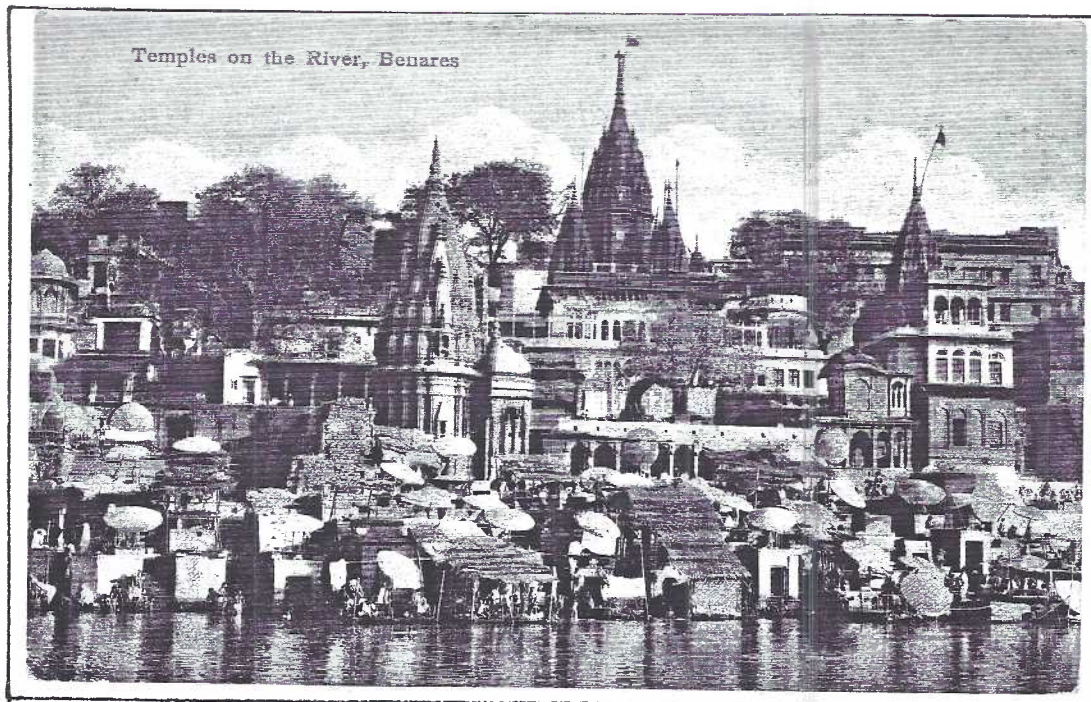

EXHIBIT WINNERS

Even with tables around three sides and seating for more than the 33 members who attended there was room for an exhibit easel in Jim's shed. However the easel itself held only three boards. Too sticky to make one? The theme was BEVERAGES.

Jim Ward FIRST DEUTSCH BIER
Harold Moyer SECOND FORMOSA OOLONG TEA
Brian Frankhouser THIRD BY THE KEG
 FLAG boards (note change from single) for July
 SUMMER RECREATION (single card) for August
Have you begun your EXPO boards??

Postcard Exchanges

Early International Correspondence

An article in the excellent British publication, Picture Postcard Monthly concerned the minority religion, Parsis or Parsees. I shortly delved into a dealer's box of Indian PCs and became even more interested in the messages on a number of cards. Collectors were exchanging on an international level. The PCs were dated from 1910 to 1913 and mailed to Miss Minnie Aborn of Worcester, MA.

Some of the more interesting excerpts are included for your reading pleasure.

July 12, 1910. Please excuse my not writing to you but I am in hospital with Malarial Fever...This is an old Hindu temple...nearly all the natives are heathens and worship idols of stone and wood. A group of natives are listening to a priest. The people pay him enormous sums if they do anything wrong.

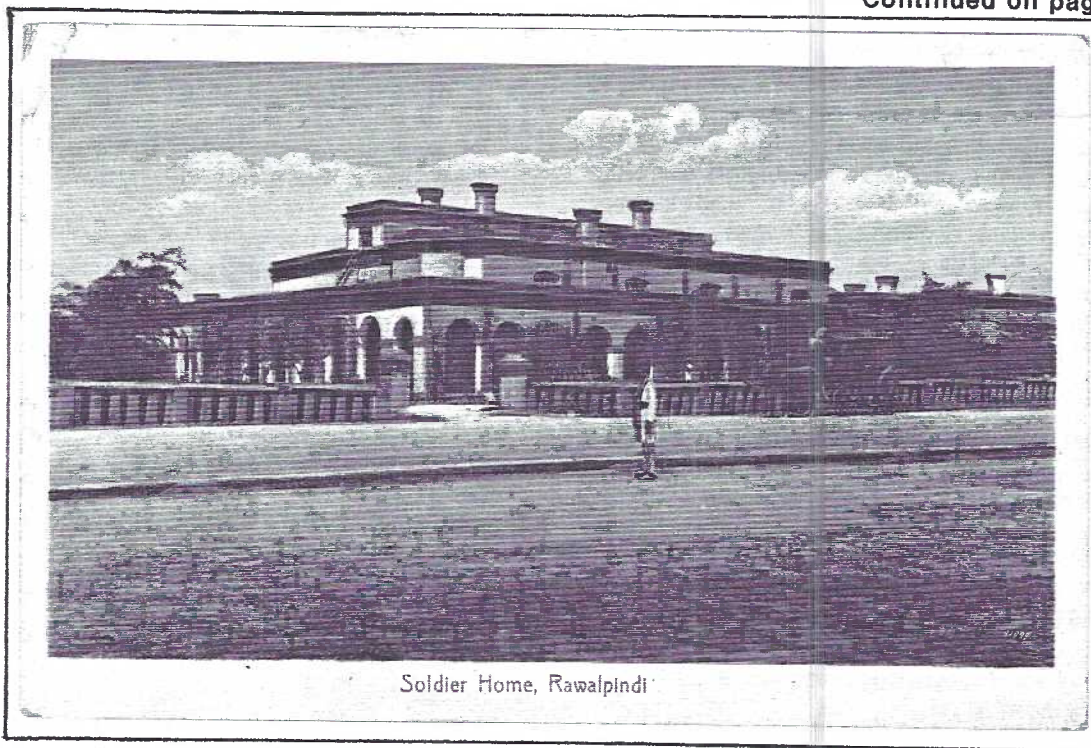

Aug. 22, 1910. This is reckoned to be the biggest hotel in India. It is where most of the British officers stop.

Jan. 22, 1911. The biggest part of Benares is forbidden to white people. It is a cheap place for silk...about 12¢ a yd.

July 9, 1912. Are these postcards of what you want? Sorry I have none in color. I have sent different people in Boston PCs and find they have not sent me any in return. I shall very much like Boston views. I will leave it to your good judgement... from George

Sept. 1, 1912. Dear Postal Friend, Thank you very much for your cards. I am sending you the only two I could get of Arabia and other of Benares of which I can get several. Foreign ones such as Persia, Java, Siberia, etc. are hard to procure and I cannot give you any address in those parts ...but if you were to look in Tuck's register you would very likely find people in those parts. I am in correspondence with people in Germany, Austria, Denmark, France, Australia, New Zealand and Italy. W.E.H.

THE YORK BASE BALL TEAM.
THE CRACK PLAYERS WHO ARE LEADERS FOR THE PENNANT IN THE MIDDLE STATES LEAGUE OF YORK, PA.

JOAN'S A PUBLISHER!

One of our most enthusiastic members in York County (there are 16) is Joan Lehman from Dover. She found the old baseball picture, above, in a photo album. Her excitement mounted when she discovered the players were all named on the reverse! With encouragement from LCPC member, Roy Cox, she sought out and found a local printer, Penny Press, in West York and here you have it, folks - Joan's first published postcard.

The York team (c.1890's) had the best batting record
